

Returns & Warranty Policy

This document distinguishes between products purchased and installed by us, versus customer-supplied products installed by our trade team, as these follow different processes.

1. Change-of-Mind Returns (Not Yet Installed)

- Items may be returned within 30 days of purchase if unused, in original packaging, with proof of purchase.
- Refund issued to original payment method within 5–7 business days of the return being processed.
- Custom or special-order items (non-stock colours/finishes) are not eligible for change-of-mind return.
- Delivery fees are non-refundable for change-of-mind returns.

2. Faulty Products (Not Yet Installed)

- If a product is found faulty prior to installation, it can be exchanged or refunded at no cost, regardless of the 30-day window, provided it is within the manufacturer's warranty period (see product-catalog for warranty terms by product).
- Please do not attempt to install a product suspected to be faulty — installing first voids some manufacturer warranties if the fault is found to be a defect rather than an installation issue.

3. Products Installed by Our Trade Team

- Workmanship on installations carried out by our own trade team is guaranteed for 12 months from installation date.
- If a product fails after installation and is found to be a manufacturer defect (not an installation issue), the manufacturer's warranty applies — the manufacturer covers replacement of the unit, and we cover the labour to remove and reinstall at no charge, provided our team performed the original installation.
- If the fault is determined to be an installation issue, we remedy this at no cost under our workmanship guarantee.

4. Customer-Supplied Products, Installed by Our Trade Team

This is a common source of confusion for customers — please clarify these points clearly:

- If a customer supplies their own product (purchased from us or elsewhere) and asks us to install it, we do not warrant the product itself — only our installation workmanship (12-month guarantee, as above).
- If the customer-supplied product fails and is found to be a manufacturer defect, the customer must deal directly with the retailer/manufacture they purchased from for replacement — we cannot process this on their behalf unless it was purchased from us.

- The labour cost to remove and reinstall a warranty-replaced customer-supplied product is not included — this would be quoted as a separate job, since the plumber warrants their work, not the hardware they didn't supply.
- Always advise customers considering this route to bring the exact model/spec sheet of their product before booking installation, so our trade team can confirm compatibility with the existing plumbing (see product-catalog for pressure/compatibility requirements).

5. Trade Account Customers

- Trade account holders follow the same warranty terms as retail customers for product defects.
- Bulk/project orders (10+ units) may have separate terms — refer to the account manager for the specific project agreement rather than this general policy.

6. How to Process a Return

- 1 Confirm proof of purchase (receipt, order number, or account history for trade customers).
- 2 Check the return category above to determine the correct process.
- 3 For faulty items, complete a fault report noting the product code, purchase date, and description of the issue before processing.
- 4 Escalate anything involving a completed installation to the trade team lead — do not process installed-product warranty claims at the front counter alone.
